

Tight Taft-Ike Vote Scramble Swings To West Virginia

WASHINGTON, May 13—The Taft-Eisenhower fight for Republican presidential-nominating delegates, tightened up a little by results in Rhode Island and Wyoming swung to West Virginia Tuesday.

The weather was fair there and a half-million ballots were expected in a primary. Features, besides hot nomination races for governor and Congress, were:

1. Election of 16-vote Republican and 20-vote Democratic delegations to the Chicago national conventions in July.

2. A GOP popularity contest between Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio and former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota, spiced by a movement for write-in votes—which can not count legally—for Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

Taft backers, with the solid support of the state organization were confident of capturing all 16 Republican delegates. Eisenhower forces said they would consider it a victory to elect even one Eisenhower delegate.

In the preferential poll, Taft looked like a shoo-in over Stassen. Eisenhower people are asking voters to write "Ike" across the names of Stassen and Taft even though such write-ins won't be counted. Their avowed purpose: To cut down the Taft popularity vote.

There was no Democratic preference vote. Candidates for the 20-vote delegation, except for one supporter of Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, kept silent as to which candidate they favored.

Officially, delegations of both parties will be uninstructed.

Conventions in Wyoming and Rhode Island Monday revised the Associated Press tabulation of GOP delegate strength to read: Taft 349, Eisenhower 300.

In Wyoming Taft picked up six delegates against two for Eisenhower. Four others were not committed. But the general got all eight of Rhode Island's votes when the convention there balked at a split with Taft.

In Washington, Taft told a reporter he believes fewer than 100 delegates will remain uncommitted when the GOP convention opens July 7 in Chicago. However,

Wesley Roberts, an Eisenhower leader, said he believes there will be many more than 100 who could go either way.

North Dakota Democrats name 16 delegates with a half-vote each at a convention in Minot Tuesday. It appeared likely the eight-vote group would be uninstructed despite a pro-Kefauver movement.

In Oregon, three Eisenhower leaders—Gov. Sherman Adams of

New Hampshire, Rep. Hugh Scott Jr. of Pennsylvania and Paul Hoffman — arrived to enliven the vote-for-Ike campaign. The general is a favorite in Friday's preferential election, which Taft shunned. But there is a possibility of a split of the 18 delegates with Taft.

The reason: All but eight of the delegate-candidates are pledged to support the preferential winner. The unpledged eight, who include three Taft men, are all well-known and might draw a heavy vote.

Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator, thinks the Democratic candidate will be picked by President Truman. He told newsmen in Sacramento, Calif., Monday: "I have a feeling that sometime the President will indicate who he thinks the nominee should be, and I think it very likely that man will be the nominee."

Thirtieth Anniversary Is Observed By Fayette Garden Club at Lunch

SIX OF THE NINE CHARTER MEMBERS OF THE 30-YEAR-OLD Fayette Garden Club were at the anniversary luncheon at the Country Club Monday. They were Zimmerman, Miss Edith Gardner and Miss Elizabeth Johnson and Weade, Mrs. Max G. Dice and Miss Alberta Coffman. The charter members unable to be present were Mrs. J. Roush Burton, Miss Miriam Fite and Miss Miriam Perdue. (Record-Herald photo)

The 30th anniversary of the Fayette Garden Club was observed by 129 members and special guests at a luncheon Monday afternoon at the Country Club.

The first of the guests started to arrive at about 11:30 A. M. to be greeted by the past presidents of the club.

In the club lounge that was decorated appropriately with a profusion of spring flowers in a variety of colors, the talk by the members and guests, naturally, centered on gardening and flowers.

On the speakers table was a milk glass compote filled with an old fashioned bouquet, the featured decorative piece. Places were marked at all the tables with nosegays of iris.

Mrs. John G. Jordan delivered the invocation.

MRS. PERSE HARLOW, the club president, welcomed the guests and introduced distinguished visitors, Mrs. Donald Watt of Circleville, treasurer of the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs; Mrs. Wade Cozad of Lancaster, regional director; and Mrs. Paul Parker of Lancaster, chairman of roadside development.

Letters of commendation from Mrs. W. Fabin of Montpelier and Mrs. Rex Moreland of Centerburg, president and vice president of the state association, and Prof. Victor Reis of Ohio State University, secretary of the association, were read.

A large box of tawny gold roses which arrived too late for the decorations were shown.

Club presidents in the county were introduced along with charter members of the club.

Mrs. Max G. Dice gave the history of the club and its achievements during the 30 years of its existence.

MRS. HARLOW introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Frank Gary of Cincinnati, a noted lecturer and past president of the state association and a present councillor.

Her talk was on "Our Gardens Today and Tomorrow." She held the intense interest of the gathering for the hour that she spoke.

Committees for the event were members of the executive board as co-chairmen, assisted by those made up of: luncheon, Mrs. John Forsythe, Mrs. Wash Lough and Mrs. George Trimmer; tickets and registration, Mrs. John Forsythe and Mrs. Ansel Kirkpatrick, Sr.; corsages, Mrs. Rollo Hodge, Mrs. Marjory Mark, Miss Arbana Roush, Mrs. Chester Dunn and Mrs. Earl Grim; table decorations, Mrs. Herbert Wilson, Mrs. A. L. Rhoads, Mrs. C. S. Kelley and Mrs. C. R. Shoemaker; club lounge decorations, Mrs. Harry Bush, Mrs. John G. Jordan and Mrs. William Buchanan; serving of food, Mrs. Kenneth Craig, Mrs. Claude Davis, Mrs. George Trimmer, Mrs. Harry Bush, Mrs. John G. Jordan, Mrs. Rollo Hodge, Mrs. John Forsythe, Mrs. Robert Auginbaugh and Mrs. Ansel Kirkpatrick, Sr.

Final Arguments On Steel Heard

WASHINGTON, May 13—The U. S. Supreme Court was hearing windup arguments Tuesday on whether the government is "a mere trespasser" or is in legal possession of the steel mills.

The arguments were under a strict time limitation—2½ hours to each side. But there is no limit on how long the court may take to decide whether U. S. District Judge David A. Pine was right when he ruled President Truman's seizure of the steel mills April 8 was illegal.

The court listened — and asked questions — for more than three hours Monday during which:

John W. Davis, speaking for the steel industry, argued President Truman had no authority, under the Constitution or any law, to take over the steel mills.

He called Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, nominal operator of the mills under government possession, "a mere trespasser."

In arguments Tuesday, the government told the Supreme Court that the steel industry's fears of "irreparable injury" from government operation of the seized mills are "a lot of fantastic hogwash." And, Perlman said, the industry had "failed entirely" to show any irreparable injury will result.

When court reconvened, Perlman had only 17 minutes left of the two and one-half hours allotted him for argument, but the justices let him run overtime so they could fire questions at him.

The queries began when Perlman declared there was no intention to interfere with management.

Chief Justice Vinson asked whether this procedure (of noninterference) could be changed.

Perlman replied that "frankly it is proposed to change working conditions"—meaning wages primarily—and called this "the only tangible basis for their fears."

But, Perlman insisted, any damages the companies could prove resulted from this would have to be paid for by the government.

"How would you determine the measure of damages?" Vinson asked.

Perlman repeated that the companies could collect any provable damages and began talking about the failure of the government to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act.

Vinson then asked Perlman whether he wanted to pass over "the measure of damages" question.

Perlman retorted: "I don't want to pass over anything."

PERLMAN CITED a coal case in which he said the government had to pay part of a wage increase as damages.

The red light—turned on when a lawyer's time is up—had been burning for 30 minutes when Perlman was asked what he had to say about the Taft-Hartley Act and the steel seizure.

Perlman said that "if you use Taft-Hartley now, you invite an immediate strike."

He noted that the T-H law provides for a board to study the situation, and said there had already been a study by the Wage Stabilization Board.

Charitable Foundation and New Park Endorsed by Chamber of Commerce

A broad proposal for setting up a charitable foundation and one for an all-inclusive fund-raising campaign were endorsed by the directors of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce at the regular board meeting Monday evening.

Both of those proposals were discussed at considerable length, especially the one for the charitable foundation, before any conclusions were reached.

The directors agreed that the Chamber not only would back the charitable foundation in its present broad implications, but also agreed to cooperate with the President's Club and other interested individuals and organizations to get the project in final form for the Sesqui-centennial celebration here next year.

The gist of the discussion was that the charitable foundation would "be for the betterment of

Island Prison General Sacked For Red Deals

U. S. Joint Chiefs Demand Report On Action Taken

SEOUL, May 13—Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson was removed Tuesday as commandant of Koje Island—three days after he made a deal there with Red prisoners of war for the release of his predecessor, Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd.

The new shakeup in the Koje command came less than 12 hours after it became known the Joint Chiefs of Staff demanded immediate and full clarification of circumstances leading to:

- 1—Dodd's capture by his Koje prisoners, and
- 2—Colson's promised concessions to Communist POW leaders which won Dodd's release Saturday night.

Gen. Mark Clark, who became Far Eastern commander Monday, was instructed to send his report to the Pentagon "by the fastest means possible."

Gen. James A. Van Fleet named Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, veteran front-line infantry commander from New Orleans, to take over the turbulent 80,000-man prisoner camp.

Boatner, third general to hold the post within a week, arrived at Koje a few hours after his appointment. He speaks Chinese and is an expert on Chinese affairs.

Colson was reassigned to his former job as chief of staff of the First Corps in Korea.

Dodd, commandant of the island when Red prisoners captured him Wednesday, was reassigned to U. S. Eighth Army headquarters. His job was not announced.

On Koje, flame-throwing American tanks and combat infantrymen stood guard outside barbed wire compounds, over some of which captured Chinese and North Koreans flew the Red flag.

U. S. defense officials in Washington took exception to the wording of Colson's agreement with the Red POWs. The Defense Department issued a statement Monday night saying the wording gave wrong impressions.

It singled out these phrases: "Many prisoners of war have been killed and wounded by UN forces; prisoners will receive 'humane treatment in the future,' and there will be 'no forcible screening or any rearming of prisoners of war.'"

The Pentagon pointed out that prisoners were killed only in "incident at PW camps brought on by the rioting of the prisoners."

Further, the statement said, no prisoners of war have been rearmored, and "there has never been any forcible screening." It said Colson probably was referring to Communist attempts "to prevent our prisoners from expressing their free will." One high Washington defense official said all screening was halted two weeks ago.

Miss Annabelle Frankie, 24, whose yell—"my hair is burning!"—brought the bus to a stop.

150 Volunteers Needed Here At Once To Watch for Planes

A call is being made here for 150 volunteers to assist the Fayette County unit of the Ground Observation Corps of 22 men, organized here sometime ago, in what is known as "Operation Skywatch" which begins on or about Saturday, May 17.

This is a part of a gigantic undertaking to be carried on in 36 states, including Ohio. It is to be a constant 24 hour daily operation, the duration of which is indefinite. It will implement certain phases of plans made by the Air Defense Command.

Aside from top officials, it is improbable that anyone knows its full purpose.

All over the 36 states, volunteers are being assigned to this air force ground observation system and the 150 men, women and young people from 15 years of age to adults, are being sought immediately.

The nature of this call appears to be almost on an emergency basis. All Fayette County people who volunteer are asked to get in touch at once with Eddie Sexton, supervisor, phone 24561 or Dick Barger, chief observer, phone 54153.

Crazed Youth Kills 4 Persons Aboard Crowded Cleveland Bus

HANDCUFFED AND BLOODY, an apparently crazed gunman identified as Lawrence Goldsby, 20, is taken to city ward of prison hospital after he grabbed a patrolman's revolver and killed him and three others on a crowded bus on Cleveland's east side. Bus passengers and bystanders severely mauled and beat Goldsby before he was taken into custody. (International Sound photo)

CLEVELAND, May 13—An unemployed youth, who said he "was just mad," grabbed a policeman's revolver and blazed away in an evening rush hour bus here Monday, killing four persons.

The youth, listed by police as Lawrence Goldsby, 20, killed the patrolman, two women passengers and a man passenger.

When his weapon clicked empty, three men overpowered Goldsby and beat him savagely.

While the men pinned the slayer in the driver's seat and beat him, terrified bus passengers — there were 60 to 80 of them on the local bus — crouched behind seats, scrambled through windows, or pushed toward the closed doors.

Dead were:

PATROLMAN Eugene D. Stinchcomb, 55, who was called from traffic directing at a busy intersection and asked to take Goldsby off the bus.

Miss Annabelle Frankie, 24, whose yell—"my hair is burning!"—brought the bus to a stop.

Mrs. Helen Garrison, 50, who joined in accusing Goldsby of touching a lighted cigarette to the hair of Miss Frankie, her friend and co-factory worker.

Through swollen lips, Goldsby told detectives he was a native of Pine Bluffs, Ark., and came here about two weeks ago from New York City where he had done odd jobs.

He had no work here, he said. Pressed for his motive in the killings, he said:

SEXTON SAYS that only one observation post will be maintained in this county and that will be the roof of the American Legion Post Building on North Fayette Street.

Volunteers, assisted by the regular members of the Ground Observer Corps unit here, will maintain a day and night vigil to report any aircraft of any description flying over this locality.

The volunteers will be in shifts of two people, each operating for a two hour period. No special training is needed for this work. The two people assigned to each two hour shift probably will not have to be on duty more than once or twice a week. All airplanes seen passing here will be reported to a Columbus headquarters immediately over a special telephone wire which will be kept open.

THE ONLY ORDERS which Sexton and Barger have is that this service is expected to supplement the radar service whose beam seldom detects approaching aircraft under a 15,000 foot level.

Reds Blocking Both Ends Of Berlin Road

BERLIN, May 13—The Russians bottled up both ends of the Berlin-Helmstedt autobahn Tuesday and prevented Allied patrol cars from entering either way.

Allied patrol cars have been prevented for five days from entering the express highway from Berlin, but have been allowed to patrol from the western or Helmstedt end.

Tuesday morning, American officials said, east-bound patrols also were turned back from the Helmstedt checkpoint without explanation.

The United States Army's regular weekly convoy out of Berlin was allowed to pass unhampered. Regular civilian traffic also was flowing normally along the 110-mile road, the only highway connection which the Allies are allowed to use between Berlin and the western zones.

The patrols were designed to aid travelers and to keep them from straying off the highway through the Soviet zone.

City and County School Costs Less than Average for State

Both the Washington C. H. and Fayette County schools are operated more economically than the average in Ohio, figures compiled in a statewide survey made by the Bureau of Educational Research of Ohio State University reveal.

Ohio school districts invested an average of $219 in the education of each of their 1,247,205 pupils in the 1950-51 school year, the report shows.

The per pupil education cost for the Washington C. H. schools for the same period was only $162, Supt. Stephen Brown said. That was approximately $57 per pupil less than the state average and $77 per pupil under the average of $239 spent by the state's city districts.

The per pupil cost of education in the Fayette County system was only $187 which was about $32 per pupils less than the state average of $219 and $8 per pupil less than the state average of $195 for exempted villages, according to the figures compiled by Supt. W. J. Hilty of the Fayette County school system.

BROWN AND HILTY said the figures covered everything for the operation of the schools and maintenance of the school properties except debt retirement and interest. (Please turn to Page Ten)

Ohioan Sees Nothing Wrong In Payment

Senate Probers Hear Strandlund Rap RFC Director's Claim

WASHINGTON, May 13—An Ohio industrialist, Carl G. Strandlund, told Senate investigators Tuesday he saw nothing wrong in paying Sen. Joe McCarthy (R-Wis.) $10,000 in 1948 for an article about the now-defunct Lustron Corp. to be used for advertising.

But Strandlund heatedly denied he ever bragged about having powerful friends within Congress and the administration.

The Senate Elections Subcommittee opened hearings Monday on a resolution introduced by Sen. Benton (D-Conn.) aimed at unseating the Wisconsin senator. McCarthy has asked the subcommittee to investigate Benton, too.

In an angry-toned outburst, Strandlund denounced a document written in 1949 by Walter L. Dunham, one-time director of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. The document said Strandlund had intimated he had powerful friends.

RFC is the government lending agency which loaned Lustron $37½ million to finance its ill-starred venture in Columbus, Ohio, into the prefabricated housing field. Strandlund put up $1,000 cash for the venture.

THE RFC foreclosed the mortgage to Lustron in 1950 and the company's affairs now are in the hands of a Chicago bankruptcy court. Loss to the government never has been announced, but the RFC once calculated it might run as high as $30 million.

Strandlund told the senators he has been involved in a bitter controversy with Dunham and he believes Dunham wrote the memorandum "more or less to weaken and undermine me." Dunham had led a successful fight to choke off further RFC loans to Lustron.

"This man is pretty loose with his talk," Strandlund said of Dunham, adding "I take extreme exception" to the document as "something thrown in at that time to try to prejudice other RFC directors."

"Do you recall making any statement of similar nature?" Chairman Gillette (D-La.) asked the witness.

"No, sir," he replied.

"Did you ever say or intimate that you had strong connections in official circles?"

"No, sir."

Benton contends McCarthy grossly violated senatorial ethics in accepting the $10,000 payment from Strandlund. McCarthy says his action was proper and ethical.

Speaking of the McCarthy article, Strandlund told the subcommittee "the piece was worth" the $10,000 he paid.

The rules subcommittee has temporarily halted efforts of its counsel, John P. Moore, to give a detailed public airing of McCarthy's financial affairs in connection with the Lustron matter.

Episcopal Church To Receive Farm

COLUMBUS, May 13—Gift of a 1000-acre estate to the Southern Ohio diocese of the Episcopal Church, for use as a diocesan conference center, is expected soon.

The Rt. Rev. Henry Wise Hobson, bishop of the diocese, told more than 300 delegates to the 78th annual convention today that Woodlands Farms, located between London and Washington C. H. on Route 38, would be deeded to the diocese by Mrs. William Procter, wife of the founder of the Procter and Gamble Co. of Cincinnati.

Monthly Financial Report Studied By Washington C. H. School Board

Four appropriations for specific purposes amounting to $5,000 were approved by the Washington C. H. school board at its regular meeting in the office of Supt. Stephen Brown Monday afternoon.

The biggest item was $3,500 replacement of educational equipment. The others were $85 for salary in high school principal's office; $715 for materials for maintenance of buildings and grounds; $500 for clearing contracts and open order services and $400 for the cafeteria fund.

It was pointed out that the cafeteria would be brought out of the red with that appropriation and the $655 allotment by the Fayette County commissioners at their session Monday afternoon.

The monthly financial report laid before the board showed a deficit of $10,914.57 as of the end of April. It continued that an advance of $57,400 had been taken on taxes in the process of collection. The final settlement amounted to $34,795.04—net after deducting workman's compensation, $393.20; election expenses, $750.18; state examiner's compensation, $15.04; delinquent taxes, $19.05, for a total of $1,177.47.

The total tax collection (February settlement) was $92,195.04. This was approximately $500 more than was anticipated for this period. The $34,795.04 received, less the deficit of $10,914.57 would not be enough to carry through May. However, a check of about $4,700 from the state Foundation Program is due the last week in May.

THE BOARD was told that "expenditures are being strictly held within the appropriations, and the performance in this respect is even better than last year, the first year of operation of the machine bookkeeping system."

"With an overall operation of close to half a million dollars, there will naturally be some need for transfers between funds later on. The purpose of this general report is to inform you that we are following the board's directive for constant review of financial operations so that expenditures are kept within the income," the board was told.

With the routine financial report out of the way, the board turned to a lengthy discussion of the old building problems.

In the end, the decision was reached to ask the Fayette County Board of Education for its decision concerning a proposal, recommended by the state Department of Education, for a consolidation of five rural districts (Jasper, Concord, Union, Marion and Green) with the Washington C. H. district.

It was brought out that the Washington C. H. board's building plans will be determined largely by the county board's decision.

The consolidation plan has been discussed at a series of meetings during the past two months. It stemmed from the enrollment of about a third of the Washington C. H. High School from these five rural districts. The city board had asked the county and district boards to consider the consolidation on the grounds that the high school would have to be enlarged to take care of the increasing enrollment. The rural and county boards contended this was not their problem, partly because the increase was from city pupils and partly because the tuition takes care of the cost of education of the rural pupils.

tives of the Community Chest—to combine all of the drives for funds into one.

It was the consensus of the Chamber directors that some action should be taken to provide a way for people to make their contributions to these funds at one time and, thus, eliminate the appeals for money that have been coming almost every month, sometime or terner.

The board also put its stamp of approval on what has come to be known as the "green pastures program," a program designed for the betterment of agriculture.

The directors expressed the conviction that the Chamber could "lend a helping hand" in establishing the "green pastures program" in Fayette County. The program is so broad and covers so many phases of agriculture that the term admittedly is a bit vague, but the directors authorized the president of the Chamber to appoint a committee to study the matter with a view to cooperating with farm leaders in a study that would achieve its general objectives and coordinate them with the farm program best suited to Fayette County.

THE PROJECTED development of the 16-acre city-owned tract along Millikan Avenue into a new city park was given endorsement by the Chamber board. The directors also went on record to support the development.

Presidents Peters told the board that the state Highway Patrol had reported to him that the state High-

You can swing it if you try

HAVE you, by any chance, been casting eyes at a Buick, and promising yourself that someday you will take the Big Step and have one all your own?

Let us whisper something to you. The "big step" isn't big at all.

We know that's true, because such a high percentage of present Buick owners traded in a car tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field."

So why not set your sights on this star performer?

Why not enjoy big-car comfort — big-car power — big-car prestige for your money?

There's one of these lively lovelies waiting for you to come in and try it.

Get the feel of its mighty Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head. You could pay $300 to $400 more for a car that doesn't match its horsepower.

Get the feel of Dynaflo Drive*, that lets you ride relaxed—feeds a silken flow of power — and at the same time cuts down on upkeep costs, by protecting the engine, the rear end, and even the tires, from driving strains.

Get the feel of a ride that cost a million dollars and more for controls of end-sway and side-roll and vertical "throw"—for X-bracing the frame and V-bracing the torque-tube keel—for a total of 15 ride-engineering features.

One thing you'll know for sure when you've tried it. This car wasn't "built to a price." It's a Buick through and through.

But the fact remains that—when you check the price of a Buick SPECIAL against the price tags on so-called "low-priced cars"—you'll find out you can swing it if you really want to.

And brother, will that make your family happy?

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The steel dispute has become a kind of fantastic flypaper entangling everyone and everything that touches it. Now even the Supreme Court's fingers are stuck in it.

The glue started to spread when bargaining broke down between the mill owners and the CIO steelworker. The government's mediators moved in to get both sides together. They got stuck.

Then came President Truman, who's really tangled in it, and after him the Wage Stabilization Board, Congress, the U.S. District Court and the Court of Appeals. Now the Supreme Court.

This may turn out to be one of the most vital decisions given in the Supreme Court's history—if it rules directly on a President's power to seize private property when he says there's an emergency.

BUT THE COURT has alternatives. It can act in a number of ways which fall short of the momentous opinion on presidential power. Still, the nine justices know whatever they do will affect the country.

If they decide the Constitution won't permit a President to take private property, even in emergency, President Truman will have to turn the mills back to the owners. That will almost certainly mean an immediate strike by the workers. They're working now because, since the government has the mills, they are in effect government employees. In addition, they were asked to work by Truman who is on their side.

But if the owners get their mills back and the workers strike it's hard to see how Truman can then any longer avoid using the Taft-Hartley Act for this reason:

Truman says he took over the mills in the first place to prevent a shutdown in steel. If the workers quit, T-H is the only means left to keep them on the job. By using T-H Truman can get an injunction delaying a strike another 80 days.

But if there is still no settlement and Congress hasn't passed an anti-strike law by the end of those 80 days, the steelworkers are free to walk out again. All remedies will have been exhausted.

The President could, of course, seek a solution in scrapping wage and price controls since the steel companies insist they can't give the workers the raise they want unless the government lets them raise prices higher than the government says present controls will allow.

FURTHER, if the court rules against presidential seizure in this case, it will have to take responsibility for the unforeseeable future when some other president, in an emergency, thinks seizure of some kind is necessary but feels helpless to act because of this court's ruling.

That's one side of it. The other side is just as serious. This court may open the door for some future presidential tyrant to seize property and undermine the government if it rules now that the chief executive has special even though unwritten constitutional authority to take private property.

If the court lets the President hold the mills and raise wages, the mill owners, once they get their property back, never again will be able to persuade the workers to accept less pay than the government suggests.

But if the court lets the President keep the mills but says he can't raise the pay, it has created another situation: Will the steelworkers then continue working, even though the government is their employer?

There's Method In Her Madness

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Mrs. Harold Burton, wife of the Supreme Court Justice, only smiled when another woman whispered, "do you know you have two earrings on the same ear?"

"Yes, I know," Mrs. Burton replied. Then she got into the elevator in her apartment building and sallied forth to a reception for the judiciary. There she had to explain: Her slanting hat covered the right ear and she wanted both bobs to show, so she put them top and bottom of her left ear.

Senate Panel Opens Its Probe Of Sen. McCarthy's Doings

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The Senate Elections Subcommittee was told Monday that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) once received $10,000 for an article on housing from a company under Senate investigation.

The statement was made by John Moore, subcommittee counsel, as the group opened public hearings of a resolution by Sen. Benton (D-Conn) aimed at unseating the Wisconsin senator.

Benton was on hand, McCarthy, who asked the subcommittee to investigate Benton, was not present.

George E. McConley, assistant counsel to the Reconstruction Finance Corp., was on the stand when Moore rose to say McCarthy received the $10,000 from Lustron Corp. in 1948 when a committee of which he was a member was investigating RFC loans to that now-defunct company.

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) asked

Moore whether "this proves anything."

MOORE SAID it showed that "Sen. McCarthy was a member" of the investigations subcommittee when the payment was made and that the group had been investigating both the RFC and its loans to Lustron.

Moore also placed in evidence a memorandum written by Walter L. Dunham, then an RFC director, describing a meeting on July 7, 1949, with Carl G. Strandlund, who was Lustron's president.

"Mr. Strandlund, during the meeting," the memorandum said, "intimated that he had powerful friends within the administration and in Congress."

The subcommittee also received in evidence a financial report from the RFC on the Lustron loans. Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said it showed Lustron "was losing $550,000 a month" when it paid $10,000 to McCarthy.

McCarthy, in a letter to Sen. Gillette (D-Ia), the subcommittee chairman, had declared last week Lustron "was apparently flourishing and producing an excellent prefabricated house" when it paid him.

"Would you call that a flourishing corporation?" Monroney asked McCarthy.

"No, I would not," McCarthy answered.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE also introduced a batch of correspondence showing McCarthy had loans from the Appleton State Bank of Appleton, Wis., totaling $72,943.96 at the time he received the $10,000 from Lustron.

Gillette said at the outset he considers it regrettable that McCarthy has attacked the subcommittee. He read into the record an exchange of correspondence between himself and McCarthy and said McCarthy's letters carried "insinuations and innuendoes reflecting on the subcommittee."

No Flurry Follows Credit Ban Removal

According to merchants and bankers in this community there has been no big buying spree following the recent removal of some of the restrictions on time payments by the Federal Reserve Board.

As a matter of fact no big rush of buying was expected following this move. There is no existing shortage on consumer goods which ordinarily were especially featured in time payments. Easier credit for many families is not expected to bring on any more inflationary effect than already exists. Some business men, however, question the wisdom of making credit terms too liberal.

What is true in business circles in Fayette County is about the same in all other average localities in the nation except in certain spots where the government had been giving financial "shots in the arm" in an effort to establish more normal conditions because of reported industrial and mercantile letdowns.

The removal of many credit restrictions is being promoted in the hope of bringing salutary effects. One good thing is that it has a tendency toward taking government out of the field of business control in which it has had no excuse for intruding except in case of war.

Terms of credit can be arranged satisfactorily, as they have been in the past, between buyer, seller and banks or finance companies.

The Reserve Board's order, coming on the heels of previous action removing restrictions on non-defense loans by banks, reflects a general lessening of economic tension, according to some federal officials.

The fact remains that not many dealers will sell automobile or other consumer items, that generally sell for sizable amounts, on terms much more lenient than those that had been imposed by the government. Down payments may be less in some cases, and monthly payments may be spread over a longer period, but it will still be necessary to pay the total bill, and where credit terms are easier interest payments will naturally total more.

The chief impact of the Reserve Board's order is in creation of a more optimistic attitude. It also is proof that it is possible to abandon some government restrictions after they have been imposed.

Another Brainstorm

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon has come up with a bill to legitimize such presidential seizures as that of the steel industry and provide legislative sanction of comparable acts in the future.

The Morse bill provides that the president must issue a proclamation and set up an emergency board to examine the problem and submit his proposed procedure to Congress. If in five days Congress does not haul him up short by a majority vote, the executive can proceed and his acts then would be beyond review in the courts.

All Morse's bill proves is that "liberals" are the most totalitarian minded of the nation's citizens. Morse would seize upon the present disturbances to change the American form of government from the present three-way division of powers into something that the American people have never contemplated.

The Cancer Fight

Not without reason has the American Cancer Society chosen the sword as the emblem of its crusade against cancer, one of the leading enemies of human health and happiness. In a strong, affirmative attack on this insidious killer among diseases, the first aim is to detect, diagnose and treat cancer in its earlier stages. The principal weapon is knowledge.

In spreading information so that people will learn to recognize cancer symptoms, in supporting research undertakings, in providing improved service for cancer patients, the American Cancer Society performs a noble humanitarian, as well as socio-economic work. Through prompt detection and treatment, it is asserted that 70,000 lives were saved in 1951, although the toll of 215,000 deaths set a new record.

Bird Watchers Go to Brick Canyon

By Joe Wing

(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK—(AP)—The hunting season is on in Central Park.

Every morning during the annual bird migration time, scores of enthusiasts, armed with binoculars and identification books, prowl the glades of this 862-acre, $800 million bird sanctuary to add new species to their annual lists.

The hunting thus far hasn't been very good. Although the trees are leaved out early, making observation difficult, the migration has been late. The big wave of warblers, due May 10, may not be along for several days.

The bird watchers form a kind of fraternity. They concentrate in the ramble, a brushy area near the American museum of Natural History, and exchange the password, "seen anything good?" as they meet from time to time.

One woman who answered

"yes, a Cape May Warbler, down that way," was nearly trampled in the rush before she got the words out of her mouth. Cape May Warblers are uncommon and not to be missed.

People not in the know think the watchers a little crazy. One police officer thought of running a watcher in as a Peeping Tom.

In the last half century, more than 225 species of birds have been observed in the park, including 38 different kinds of warblers, a snowy owl from the far north, a Dickcissel from the west and a Purple Gallinule from the south. On just one day, May 10, 1927, a list of 78 was compiled. That's good in any country.

The nice thing about the park, from a bird watcher's viewpoint, is that birds seen there are all on the move. They drop in at night as at an oasis in a brick wilderness, but find next day it is no place to settle down. So they move on promptly, and their passage can thus be checked accurately.

J. T. Nichols of the American Museum, who has been watching birds in the park since he was a kid in the nineties, doesn't think the hunting as good as it used to be. On the other hand Geoffrey Carleton, author of "Birds of Central Park," calls it one of the best bird watching places in 50 miles.

It's good enough anyway to attract every morning and every lunch hour hundreds of amateur—and professional—bird hobbyists, all hoping for the big day when they can hang up a stupendous record of the number of birds seen or, better still, spot some strange bird that, like many a New Yorker, has found himself where he didn't expect to be.

alities. There is no way of combatting such movements of the people, as no one can be forced to spend his money in a theater.

The top management of the industry, faced by these facts, were compelled to meet this problem by practical measures. Obviously, the presence of Communists, pro-Communists, fellow-travelers and opportunists, who had made bad records for themselves, was encountering a sales resistance.

The industry organized to combat criticism, but most efforts failed because the records of the individuals criticized could only be voided by themselves and their own subsequent conduct.

Beginning last summer, a series of meetings between some motion picture producers and a few active anti-Communists resulted in a formula which is now being tried with a surprising measure of success. This formula may be stated as follows:

1. As long as such organizations of the people as the American Legion, the Catholic War Veterans, etc., take a definite position on the employment of Communists, pro-Communists, etc., in the motion picture industry, a picture in which they appear is defective and bad business;

2. No person can clear another of the taint of being favorably disposed to our national enemy, Soviet Russia. Only the person himself, who made the record, can unmake it, by a frank statement of the facts of the relationship;

3. It is not necessary for such a person to hire anyone to clear him; all that needs to be done is for him to look at his already reported record and to write a letter to his employer stating the facts as he knows or believes them to be;

4. Such letters are circulated, at first confidentially, and after criticism for the record, and among those most active in their opposition to the employment of Communist in motion pictures.

This formula has encountered less resistance than had been anticipated. First tried out by Columbia, it is now in full force at Twentieth Century-Fox and MGM Warner Brothers, RKO, and Republic have programs of their own which have been effective.

The simple method of self-confession is more realistic and to the point for so large a number of persons, many of whom have truthful explanations for their acts; some are obviously innocent of bad intent.

The enthusiastic and active co-operation of top management was not anticipated. Thus far, each of the companies adopting the program has used its own methods. The task is not easy because often involved are contractual relations, prospective lawsuits to which the Communists always resort, and loss of revenue on pictures already made. Nevertheless, the program of meeting these problems continues in a day-by-day fashion. There is no reason why any motion picture, radio or television company, any more than any other American enterprise, should employ a known Communist.

End Of Controls Being Demanded

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—The powerful American Farm Bureau Federation called Monday for outright removal of price and wage controls. Spokesmen for other farm groups urged Congress to vote for suspending or lifting price ceilings on specific agricultural commodities.

Allan B. Kline, president of the Farm Bureau Federation, told the House Banking Committee "there will never be a better time than now to drop these unworkable controls." They expire June 30.

Diet and Health Ruptured Neck Disk Can Cause Pains

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

One of the commonest causes of backaches and pains down the leg is a ruptured disk of the spine. The intervertebral disks are made up of a jelly-like material and act like shock absorbers between the many bones that make up the spine.

Sometimes a disk can be squeezed out of place, following some form of injury, and the jelly then sweeps out through the openings between the spinal bones. In doing this it presses on these roots, or on the spinal cord itself, which runs down through the spine.

May Be Overlooked

The most common location for a ruptured disk is in the lower back, but it may also occur in the neck and cause very severe pain. Even doctors frequently trace these pains to some other cause and overlook the rupture.

At first, a ruptured disk in the neck may cause nothing more than a stiff neck with some pain. The patient often calls this a "crick" in the neck.

These symptoms disappear, but later, perhaps after another injury, the rupture may become worse. The person then complains of pain running into the shoulder, down the arm, and into one or more fingers. This may appear rather suddenly, and it can be very severe.

Many of these cases are mistaken for heart disease because of the pain in the left arm. In addition, the person may complain that his fingertips feel numb. The arm reflexes are also somewhat weaker.

Diagnosis by X-ray

A ruptured disk can be discovered by an X-ray examination of the spine, which shows a narrowing of the space between the vertebrae at the point of the rupture.

Usually, a doctor can help a misplaced disk by gently drawing on the person's head and stretching the neck. After this, the neck is fitted with a brace to keep it from moving. Certain cases, however, with severe pain or crippling symptoms, may require a surgical operation to correct the condition.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. A. D.: I was operated on for prostate trouble six months ago. The trouble has now recurred. Is this possible?

Answer: When the prostate is increased in size, it is sometimes impossible to remove it entirely when surgery is performed. Therefore, the condition may recur. This is a fairly common occurrence. It would be advisable for you to consult again the physician who operated on you for this condition.

Civilians Urged As Defense Buyers

ATLANTIC CITY, May 13—(AP)—The president of the CIO Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America Monday demanded that civilians replace military men as spenders of Defense Department billions.

Military men fail to understand U. S. business and have disrupted the men's clothing industry, said Jacob S. Potofsky, head of the 400,000-member union. Their buying practices have hit an industry already suffering from unemployment and work cuts caused by high prices, consumer resistance and draft of young men customers, he said in a speech at opening of Amalgamated's 18th biennial meeting.

The simple method of self-confession is more realistic and to the point for so large a number of persons, many of whom have truthful explanations for their acts; some are obviously innocent of bad intent.

No Drag-Out In Probes Of Grain Wanted

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) says he hopes "some people who are too doggone suspicious" won't try to prevent a scheduled windup of his investigation of the Agriculture Department.

Ellender heads the Senate Agriculture Committee now in the fifth month of an inquiry into alleged wrongdoings in the department's farm aid program of price supports and crop storage.

"We have shown some lax administration and that a few crooks and thieves were involved," Ellender said, "and the investigation has been well worth while. To my mind we have shown the over-all job was well done."

"I just hope some people who are too doggone suspicious aren't going to try to drag this thing out beyond the point where it serves a useful purpose, and we have about reached that point now."

Ellender said he hopes to end public hearings Thursday with testimony by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, who has asked for a chance to answer charges of a "coverup job" voiced by Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.).

Aiken wants detailed explanations on a variety of points and said he is not willing now to concede that Brannan should have the last word in the hearings—especially if the secretary contradicts prior witnesses.

MAY IS NATIONAL CAR SAFETY MONTH. CHECK YOUR CAR. CHECK ACCIDENTS!

Sokolsky

For many years those who managed the motion picture industry took the position that they were not concerned with the politics of those engaged in the industry; that the only criterion of employment was talent. In 1947, this question became a national issue because of the appearance of "friendly" and "unfriendly" witnesses before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, some of the unfriendly ones going to prison for contempt. It became clear during those hearings that Communists had infiltrated the industry.

The motion picture companies met at the Waldorf-Astoria where decisions were made not to employ known Communists or those who took advantage of the Fifth Amendment to avoid admitting that they were Communists. This placed the industry in an awkward position legally.

On the other hand, voluntary groups of citizens, acting independently of each other, not only picketed theaters, but also, by word of mouth, denounced certain motion pictures and their persons.

Meeting To Be Held Thursday Night

Two Softball Leagues All Set For Washington C.H. This Year

Everything except the final details today was all set for the opening of the two-division softball season in Washington C. H. on May 26.

This was revealed by Max Lawrence, the district softball commissioner, when he called a meeting of managers, sponsors and umpires for Thursday at 7:30 P. M. in the Dayton Power & Light Co. building auditorium.

There will be two leagues of six teams each in operation here during the summer, Lawrence said. One will be made up of teams whose players will be the best available without regard to place of residence or employment.

The other will be made up of teams representing industries. The players on these teams are to be residents of the community and employees of the sponsoring industry. It is to be known as the Industrial League.

NO OFFICIAL name has been given to the other league which is of right now is being generally referred to as the "fast league."

In the "fast league" are to be teams representing the Webber French Mfg. Co., the Don Wood Const. Co., the Rocking Chair Inn, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Williamsport and Buck & Red of Washington C. H. and Greenfield.

Lawrence said, "These teams should be able to hold their own with the best in the state."

And, that is more significant than appears on the surface; for, the state softball tournament is to be held here again this year at the close of the season and Washington C. H. will be represented in it by the champion.

In the Industrial League will be teams sponsored by the Armco Drainage and Metal Products Co., Pennington Bakery, Opekasit of Jeffersonville, Dayton Power & Light Co., the National Cash Register Co., and either the Eagles or Armbrust's.

For the most part, these teams are familiar to the softball fans of the community in name and general composition. But, there probably will be a lot of new faces, especially in the "fast league," which will draw its players from a considerably wider area.

FRED PIERSON, for the last five years, the city recreation director, is making up the schedules for both leagues. He expects to have them completed and ready for submission to the meeting of managers, sponsors and umpires Thursday night.

If any changes are to be made in either of them, that is to be done at this meeting so everything can be cleared up and the leagues ready for the May 26 opener.

Rules and regulations also are to be discussed at that meeting, too. They are expected to be put in final form before adjournment.

Although plans call for the start of the league schedules on May 26, there probably will be a game or two with out-of-town teams before that to sort of warm up the diamond and get the fans in the mood. But, just when they will be played and against what teams is still uncertain. Lawrence said efforts were being made to bring the Champion Paper Co. outfit, the state champs, here next week, possibly on May 21, for one game.

If that pans out, there may be another game on Friday night.

Lawrence and Pierson took on the softball program here when a renewal of the two-tenths of a mill levy was turned down by voters.

FAILURE OF that levy put an end to the recreation program that had included five playgrounds for the youngsters in each of the city school districts, the softball and baseball leagues for older boys and the night softball for adults.

Lawrence and Pierson agreed to shoulder the adult night softball program responsibility. They hope to finance it with contributions (there is no regular admission charge at the gate and proceeds from the concessions, Willard Wilson cooperated by providing the lighted field for the games.

They were almost stuck with a softball program here this summer, however. For, after the state tournament was staged here last year, the unanimous decision of the state softball commission was to hold it here again this year.

When the final arrangements were made this spring and the proposition was put officially up to Lawrence, he accepted -- but at the time there was neither a league nor a field definitely in prospect.

That is when he and Pierson got busy and laid the groundwork.

Danny Direct Grabs Feature

YONKERS, N. Y., May 13.—(AP)—Alex Parsons' Danny Direct of Brantford, Ont., won his fourth race in five outings at Yonkers Raceway Monday night as the Grand Circuit opened a two-week session under the lights.

With Vic Roundtree handling the reins, Danny Direct stepped the mile of the $3,660 Hastings Pace in 2:05.

The son of Billy Direct set all the pace. He easily held off the stretch bid of William House's Scottish Chief with third going to Royal King.

Stanley Dancer's Volo Chief, winner of four straight, finished fourth, the first time he has been out of the money since coming under Dancer's guidance.

Greyhound, world champion trotter, observes his 20th birthday this year. The gelding is now in retirement. His sire, Guy Abbey, is still living in Kentucky at the age of 27.

Marciano Given Ring Suspension

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 13.—(AP)—Heavyweight contender Rocky Marciano began a 30-day ring suspension Tuesday after running his undefeated string to 40 bouts with a third-round knockout of Bernie Reynolds of Fairfield, Conn.

Marciano blasted out the former New England heavyweight titlist in 2:21 of the third of their scheduled 10-rounder Monday night. The suspension by the Maine Boxing Commission was imposed because he boxed his 19-year-old brother instead of advertised opponents during a recent exhibition tour of Maine.

Penna Awarded PGA Meet Berth

CINCINNATI, May 13.—(AP)—Toney Penna of Cincinnati who has been kicking around the professional golf circuit for many years without ever winning any of the big national titles, will get another crack at the national PGA crown at Louisville next month.

The swarthy Penna had an even par 142 at the Kenwood Country Club Monday to lead the field as three pros qualified from Southern Ohio for the PGA. Others who qualified were Mel Carpenter of Hebron and Len Wagner of Cincinnati.

When a pulled muscle prevented Florida's J. (Pappa) Hall, national collegiate champ, from high jumping in the dual meet with Georgia recently, he entered the shot put event—but failed to place.

Ability To Win Close Battles May Be Secret Of Leaders

NEW YORK, May 13.—(AP)—What's keeping Cleveland, Washington, Brooklyn and the New York Giants at or around the top in the major league standings? Ability to win the close ones?

There's an old baseball adage that the team capturing the most one-run decisions usually wins the flag. That has been true down through the years.

One of the reasons the Giants edged the Dodgers for the National League pennant last year was because they had a 34-21 record in one-run decisions to Brooklyn's 31-23 mark.

A check of this year's figures show that the Dodgers and Senators own the best record in close contests. Each club is runnerup in its league. The league-leading Giants and Indians are second in the one-run department.

Appropriately enough, Pittsburgh's cellar-dwelling Pirates in the National have dropped all four of their one-run decisions. The sixth place White Sox, with a 3-6 record, own the poorest mark in the American.

There was only one game scheduled Monday — Philadelphia at Brooklyn at night—but that was postponed because of cold and wet grounds.

The next two weeks will tell whether Washington in the American and Chicago and Cincinnati in the National, the three current surprise clubs, are really improved over last year or are mere morning glories.

All three will be on the road, the Senators, only two games out of first place, take on the last-place Tigers Tuesday night in the first of three games in Detroit.

The Cubs and Reds, tied for third place with 14-9 records, invade the east Tuesday night, Chicago opening a two-game series in Philadelphia and Cincinnati inaugurating a two-day stand in New York.

says Sam Pearce, Seattle, Wash. "If you want pickup, there isn't a car on the road, in any price class, that can beat the Rambler. Yet for economy, the gas gauge goes down so slowly you think it's broken."

IT'S TRUE. Nash Rambler owners are amazed at the sensational mileage they get. This is the car that holds the all-time record in the Mobilgas Economy Run with 31.05 miles per gallon! This is a real "red-hot" performer with so much room inside! This is such a smart and beautifully equipped car—the only car that comes to you with its many custom accessories at no extra cost!

Come see it. Especially, come drive it. Just take five minutes to discover something absolutely new in handling and parking ease... and new in performance, too!

Terhune Named Scout Chairman

Chaney Elected For Commissioner

Robert Terhune was elected district chairman and Kenneth Chaney was elected district commissioner for the coming year when the Fayette County committee of the Boy Scouts of America held its annual election of officers Monday evening in Fellowship Hall of Grace Methodist Church.

Both men have been active in scouting in Fayette County for several years.

Terhune has previously served as district chairman for four years and has recently been active in the committee of troop 222 which is sponsored by the Lion's Club of Washington C. H.

Chaney served as county advancement chairman last year and is currently affiliated with troop 152, First Baptist Church, Washington C. H. and Cub pack 20, sponsored by the Eastside PTA.

A new troop of six boys has been started in Waterloo by a group of citizens, it was announced by Earle Henderson, organizer.

Plans were developed by the committee to start an Air Explorer Squadron in Washington C. H. in response to interest expressed by several young men.

In this phase of senior scouting, explorers may learn aviation mechanics, navigation, communications and basic principles of aviation.

Final plans were also laid for Fayette County's participation in the council Camporee which will take place next weekend, May 23, 24 and 25 at the Delaware County Fairgrounds.

On Wednesday night, May 14 at 7 P. M. at the Lion's Club scout barn there will be a rehearsal of events for all scouts and scouters participating in the Camporee.

Cost of Education

est on indebtedness which were incurred by special vote outside the regular sources of revenue. Transportation costs, which are higher for the rural schools than those in the cities, were included in the figures given here. They were not included in the bureau report.

Neither Brown nor Hilly offered any comments on the education costs or the comparisons. However, both were obviously pleased by the report that showed costs under those of the state averages.

The state average for 1950-51 was $19 more per pupil than the previous year, the research organization said.

A SUMMARY of the OSU bureau report said the most money was paid out for city school youngsters — an average of $239 for each of 682,636 children. Exempted village districts were next with an average of $195 for 471,173 students.

The bureau, a branch of the OSU college of education, got its per pupil figures by dividing total expenditures for the year by the average daily membership in each school. The bureau said it used membership rather than attendance figures because the Ohio school foundation law provides state aid on a membership basis.

The Cleveland suburb of Shaker Heights, with an average daily school membership of 4,532, spent the most per pupil of any district in the state—$420. The village of Byesville in Guernsey County spent the least—$140.

IN THE CITY classification, Shaker Heights was first and Wellston last with $147. Fairport Harbor in Lake County led the exempted village class with $387 and Byesville was last. Cuyahoga County led that group with $299 and Scioto County was the lowest with $152.

Here are the amounts per pupil spent by the top 10 districts in each of three classes:

Cities — Shaker Heights $420, Lakewood $367, Norwood $351, Rocky River $347, Oakwood $337, Cleveland Heights $334, Kent $319, Campbell $311, South Euclid-Lyndhurst $309, Grandview Heights $308.

Exempted Villages — Fairport Harbor $387, Rossford $353, Wyoming $337, Ashtabula Harbor and Bay Village, each $265, Perrysburg $263, Hubbard $259, Oberlin $251, Loudonville $249, Westlake $247.

County — Cuyahoga $299, Logan $267, Lake $266, Crawford $241, Marion $239, Pickaway $237, Seneca $232, Erie $231, Van Wert $228, Auglaize $227.

Here are figures for some of the counties:

Allen $173.72, Athens $156.11, Auglaize $223.95, Clark $166.70, Clinton $177.31, Fairfield $169.48, Fayette $178.23, Franklin $160.24, Greene $171.84, Highland $165.47, Hocking $170.98, Madison $176.16, Paulding $184.28, Perry $162.95, Pickaway $221.53, Putnam $175.50, Ross $145.55, Van Wert $211.09, Vinson $168.33, Warren $166.87.

It was pointed out that in evaluating these figures, the word "cost" is misleading. Rather, the amount spent actually is an "investment" in the school children.

Two Men Taken To Workhouse

Other Cases Before Judge Brubaker

Two men were sentenced to the Cincinnati Workhouse during the Monday session of municipal court and Police Chief Vaiden Long took them there Monday afternoon.

One was Earl Beedy, on an intoxication charge, and for violating his probation from a previous offense. Sometime ago he was sentenced to 60 days in the workhouse and the penalty suspended pending good behavior.

When he appeared before Judge Robert L. Brubaker, Monday, the 60 days suspension was invoked, 90 days additional added to the sentence, and he was fined the costs.

It was one of the first instances where an offender has appeared in municipal court after having been placed upon probation, and the court took immediate action to invoke the suspended sentence and add additional time to the workhouse term.

The second man taken to the workhouse was James C. Reffitt of Columbus. He was fined $15 and costs for fishing in Deer Creek without a license. For resisting Game Protector Irvin J. Patrick, he drew $100 and costs, and when he could not pay, was sentenced to the Cincinnati Workhouse to work out the fine at $1 per day.

Also at the Monday session, Richard Ackley was fined $10 and costs for disorderly conduct.

Columbus Williams and Amos Goolsby, charged by Clay Snyder, with fighting, were dismissed for lack of evidence.

Only one new case was filed Monday, so Tuesday's session of court was made up largely of continued cases.

The new case was Clarence Cooper, 37, colored, city, charged with improper registration of an automobile. He posted $50 bond for appearance.

noon, the county commissioners continued the hearing for three weeks until the engineer can obtain revised estimates of the cost.

The commissioners decided that 18 inch tile should be used the entire length of the ditch, instead of using 15 inch tile part of the way.

"I AIN'T VERY MUCH, BUT..."

★ In the play Green Pastures, the character Noah observed, "I ain't very much, but I've all I got." This is simple but eloquent reasoning.

The realization of responsibility to yourself and to others to be cheerful, sympathetic, and helpful is the basis of a sound personality. Ill and disgruntled people are a burden to all. Take good care of yourself. Do not forget that both your family physician and your pharmacist are on your side to help you stay well and happy. All you have to do is ask for their help. When ill, see your physician. We are fully equipped to fill your prescriptions and furnish the needed sickroom supplies.
